UNIT 3

ROUTINES

Looking ahead

In this unit you will learn about typical routines both at home and at work. You will learn about ordering drinks in a bar or in a pub. You will compare holidays in different countries.

Vocabulary

- times of the day
- days of the week
- months of the year
- the seasons
- public holidays
- expressions with have and got

Grammar

- the simple present tense.
7 o’clock

7.15 a.m.

7.45 a.m.

8.30 a.m.

midday

9 o’clock

11.00 p.m.
What time is it?

Exercise 3.1

What time is it in each picture?

Exercise 3.2

Complete the following sentences:

1. I wake up at....................
2. I eat breakfast at..............
3. I go to work at..................
4. I answer my e-mails at.............
5. I have lunch at..................
6. I watch T.V. at..................
7. I go to bed at....................

WORKING WITH VOCABULARY

Times of day

Exercise 3.3

Look at the following times of day, which we can say in two ways:

8.00  eight a.m. or eight o’clock (in the morning)
8.15  eight fifteen or (a) quarter past eight
8.30  eight thirty or half past eight
8.45  eight forty-five or (a) quarter to nine
8.55  eight fifty-five or five (minutes) to nine
9.05  nine-o-five or five (minutes) past nine
9.10  nine ten or ten (minutes) past nine
10.04 ten-o-four or four minutes past ten
10.12 ten twelve or twelve minutes past ten
7.00  seven p.m. or seven o’clock (in the evening)
11.00 eleven p.m. or eleven o’clock (at night)
Say these times:

| | | |

What is the morning/afternoon in your country?

Note 2

The 24 hour clock is used at stations and airports:
- 10.30 p.m. is 22.30 (twenty-two thirty),
- 6.15 p.m. is 18.15 (eighteen fifteen).

Routine activities

Exercise 3.4

- What time do you have breakfast/lunch?
- What time do you start work?
- What time do you finish work?

Now complete a typical day for yourself and your partner:

Alison’s weekly routine

Exercise 3.7

Listen and read: Alison is explaining her weekly routine:

On Monday I usually go to Head Office in Oxford.
On Tuesday I’m in my own office. In the evening I go to the Sports Club.
On Wednesday I have a lot of meetings.
On Thursday I visit people in the town.
On Friday I’m back in my office again.
On Saturday I’m very busy: I go to the supermarket and I clean the house.
On Sunday I go to church and then I visit my family or friends.

Your routine

Exercise 3.8

Which days do you do the following? At what time? Prepare two or three sentences. Here are some phrases to help you:
- go to the supermarket
- go to work
- go home
- clean the house/car
- visit relatives/friends
- entertain relatives/friends
- go the cinema/theatre/sports centre
- work in the garden
- go to the café or restaurant
- go for a walk in the country(side)

Add any other activities from your own routine.

Months and Seasons

Exercise 3.9.1
Public holidays

Exercise 3.9.2

In England and Wales, there are eight public holidays (also known as Bank Holidays) per year. (Scotland and Northern Ireland have some different holidays.)

- When are the public holidays in your country?
- When do they occur?

Holidays in the United Kingdom

Exercise 3.9.3

Match up the following texts with these holidays:

A  Christmas Day
B  May Day
C  Easter
D  Boxing Day

1. Children (and others!) receive chocolate eggs. An older tradition was to paint ordinary hard-boiled eggs which were sometimes hidden or rolled down a hill.

2. This day got its name because in the past it was the custom for rich people to put gifts or money into a box. The box was opened on this day and the contents distributed to the poor.

3. Families come together and give presents to each other. Many people have a traditional lunch and eat roast turkey, sausages and roast potatoes and have a special pudding made with dried fruit and spices.

4. This is the traditional day for workers to celebrate together. As in many other countries, trade unions march through the streets with banners, but these rallies are being replaced with other activities. In the U.K. the Bank Holiday is on the first Monday on the month, not the first day of the month.

Work with a colleague. Ask the question:

What special customs or traditions are connected with Public Holidays in your country?

Now write five sentences describing these customs or traditions.
WORKING WITH LANGUAGE

The present simple tense

The final ‘s’

Exercise 3.10

Look at these examples of the present simple tense:

| I start work at half past eight            |
| You start work at half past eight         |
| We both start work at half past eight     |
| Flavio starts work at nine                |
| Michelle starts at nine                   |
| They start work at nine                   |
| Anya starts work at eight o’clock         |
| She starts work at eight o’clock          |
| Kam starts work at six o’clock            |
| He starts work at six                     |

Fill in the gaps with starts or start

1. Philippe ______ work at 6 o’clock.
2. Pablo ______ work at 5 am.
3. I ______ work at 9 o’clock.
4. You ______ work at 9 o’clock too.
5. We both ______ work at 9.00.
6. Carla ______ work at 2 in the afternoon.
7. Juan ______ work at 3 pm.
8. They both ______ work in the afternoon.
9. He ______ work at 10 in the evening.
10. She ______ work at 6 am.
WORKING WITH LANGUAGE

The present simple tense – regular verbs

Look at these examples of regular verbs in the present simple form:

Simple present form (all regular verbs):

I work every day
You walk to the office
He works in Helsinki
She plays tennis
The train leaves at nine o’clock
We clean the house on Saturday
You visit Head Office each week
They play football on Sunday

Negative forms

To make the negative we use:

I, you, we, they + do + not + verb
he, she, it + does + not + verb

We usually use the short forms for these:
don’t + verb
doesn’t + verb

e.g. I don’t work you don’t work
he doesn’t work
she doesn’t play
it doesn’t leave

we don’t clean
they don’t play

Examples:

I work Monday to Friday; I don’t work Saturday and Sunday.
It rains a lot in Britain; it doesn't rain much in Spain.
I don't go to the supermarket during the week; I go at the weekend.
He doesn't clean the house (because his wife does all the housework).
Carlo doesn't cook (because Flavio is a very good cook).

Use of the simple present

In English the simple present tense is used:

1. For a state which exists now, or a fact which is generally true:
   - I like swimming.
   - CFDT is a French trade union.

   It is also used to describe present states which may change:

2. For present habits, or actions which are repeated regularly, and which are sometimes also indicated by the use of a frequency adverb such as normally, generally, usually, mostly, etc.:
   - I normally travel to work by train.
   - I usually come home at 6 o'clock.

3. To describe a present event, something which is happening at the very moment of speaking. This use can often be seen in newspaper headlines:
   - Italy wins the World Cup!

4. To express the future for fixed or planned events:
   - The train leaves at 18.43
   - The shop opens at 2 pm

5. To express the future in 'if' clauses:
   - If it rains, we'll come home early.
   - If he rings, tell him I'll be back later.
Negative forms

Exercise 3.11

Write or say the negative forms of the following.

Add the correct sentence if you can.

Example:
Alison goes to the supermarket on Thursday evening
Alison doesn’t go to the supermarket on Thursday evening. She goes on Saturday.

1. Alison goes to Head Office on Wednesday.
2. Alison goes to the Sports Club on Sunday.
3. Steve starts work at nine o’clock.
4. Carla starts work at half past eight.
5. Pablo starts work at nine o’clock.
6. Flavio comes from Germany.
7. Edna has one daughter.
8. Alison visits her family on Monday.
9. Pablo belongs to the union Unite.
10. Anya comes from Italy.

What don’t you do?

Anya says: I don’t drink coffee after 9 p.m. (because it keeps me awake).
I don’t have lunch or eat cakes (because I want to be slim).

Flavio says: I don’t drink alcohol before 6 p.m. (because it makes me sleepy).
I don’t go to bed before midnight (because I like to watch TV or read).

What don’t you do?

Tell your group, and give a reason why.
WORKING WITH LISTENING

Tom’s routine

Exercise 3.12

Listen to Tom talking about his routine and answer the following questions:

1. Does he work part-time? Yes/No, he……
2. Is each day the same? Yes/No……
3. What time does he start work? He……
4. What does he do first in the morning?
5. What does he do next?
6. How many miles does he travel in a day?
7. What does he do when he returns to the office?
8. What does he do at the weekend?

WORKING WITH VOCABULARY

Expressions with have

Exercise 3.13

Study the following:

have a meeting  I have a meeting every morning at 9.00.
have lunch  I have lunch every day at 12.30.
have a walk  We usually have a walk on Sunday afternoon.
have a drink  I usually have a drink when I come home from work have a meal  Sometimes we have a meal in a restaurant.
have tea  We always have a cup of tea in the morning.
have (a) coffee  Shall we have a coffee? Would you like (to have) a coffee?
I never have a cup of coffee at night.
How many sentences can you make from the table?

Do you know any others?

WORKING WITH LISTENING

In the bar - some trade unionists are having a drink.

Exercise 3.15

Paul: Actually, it’s my birthday today. Let me get everyone the next drink.

Jim: Certainly not, we’ll get something special for you. Happy birthday!

Edna: Many happy returns of the day!

Paul: Thanks very much.

Jim: Paul, what would you like? A brandy, a whisky?

Paul: Oh, a whisky, please.

Jim: O.K. Edna, what about you?

Edna: A glass of wine, please.

Jim: Red or white?
Edna: Dry white, please.
Jim: I’ll have a pint of bitter.

Jim gets the drinks:
Jim: A whisky, a dry white wine and pint of bitter. Thanks.
Jim: Cheers! Happy birthday, Paul.
Edna: Happy birthday! All the best!
Paul: Thanks. Cheers!

WORKING WITH SPEAKING

Practise:
A: What would you like?
B: I’d like/I’ll have.........
A: Here you are/There you go. Cheers!
B: Cheers!

- a pint (of beer)
- a half (half a pint of beer)
- a half of lager
- a glass of wine
- a brandy
- a whisky
- a shandy (beer and lemonade)
- an orange juice
- a lemonade
- a mineral water (sparkling/still)

Note:
In the U.K. bars are usually referred to as pubs (public houses), many are open all day and all evening. Bar meals such as sausage and chips or sandwiches are very common. A group of friends or colleagues often buy drinks in rounds. One person buys the drinks, then another member of the group and so on. People often say ‘Cheers!’ before they start to drink.

- What time do bars open and close in your country?
- What do people usually drink?
- Do people buy drinks in rounds in your country?
- Do people usually say anything like ‘Cheers!’ before they start to drink?

Exercise 3.16

Share your mind-maps with the whole group.
WORKING WITH READING

Working hours in Britain

Exercise 3.17

According to the Office of National Statistics (ONS) full time workers in the U.K. in 2006 averaged 39.5 hours a week, however, just over 20% of workers worked more than 45 hours a week. U.K. workers have less paid leave than workers in the EU (20 days per year compared to 25-30 days in the EU).

Many factory workers, bus and train drivers and supermarket staff work shifts: for example, night shift, afternoon or evening shift. Many people work flexi-time (flexible working hours, especially in banking, financial and business sectors.

The TUC (Trades Union Congress) named 22nd February, 2008 ‘Work your proper hours a day’ and called on people who often work extra hours to mark this day by turning up for work on time, taking a proper lunch break and leaving at the correct time.

According to the Joseph Rowntree Foundation (a social policy research and development charity) 4 out of 5 mothers whose partner/husband works more than 48 hours a week want them to work fewer hours as long working hours are damaging family life.

Note: The TUC has 59 affiliated unions representing 6.5 million workers in the U.K.

Text made up with information from the following websites:
www.cipd.co.uk/subjects/wrkgtime/general/ukworkhrs.htm
www.worksmart.org.uk/workyourproperhours/index.php www.tuc.org.uk/work_life/index.cfm?mins=4748&minors=474

Now try to answer the following questions:

1. How many hours a week on average do full-time workers in Britain work?
2. What percentage work more than 45 hours a week?
3. How many days paid leave per year do EU workers have?
4. What date did the TUC name for their ‘Work your proper hours day’?
Now ask and answer these questions with a partner about your country:

5. How many hours do you work per week?
6. How many hours per week do people normally work in your country?
7. How many days holiday do you have each year?
8. Give examples of flexi-time.
9. Give examples of shift working.
10. How do long working hours damage family life?

Looking back

Now that you have finished the unit, you should be able to:

- tell the time and say the date in English
- talk about your daily and weekly routine
- describe other people’s routine
- order drinks in a bar
- use the simple present tense (positive and negative forms)
UNIT 4

SPARE TIME

Looking ahead

In this unit you will learn about some typical spare time interests. You will learn to talk about your own spare time interests and you will learn to talk about what is on television.

You will also study the following:

Vocabulary

➢ the names of different spare time activities
➢ how often we do things
➢ how to talk about the weather

Grammar

➢ sentences in the negative
➢ questions with when? and where?
➢ the past simple tense
Hobbies and sports

Leisure Activities

Exercise 4.1.1

Identify as many things as possible in these photos.

Can you name the sports?
Exercise 4.1.2

What can you identify in the following photos?

WORKING WITH VOCABULARY

How often?

Exercise 4.2.1

Study the phrases below:

- every morning
- every afternoon
- every evening
- every day
- every other day
- every Tuesday
- once a week
- twice a week
- three times a week
- on Tuesdays and Thursdays
- once a month
- the first Saturday of every month
- four times a month
- often

Exercise 4.2.2

Look at some of the words for spare time activities or hobbies.

Can you add some more?

<table>

- What do you do in your spare time?

  e.g. I play football every Monday
  I go swimming every other day

Now tell the whole group what activities you partner does each week:

e.g. Per goes swimming every other day.
Jim plays football every Monday evening

WORKING WITH LISTENING

Spare time activities

Exercise 4.3

Now listen to two trade unionists talking about their hobbies.

Fill in the missing words.

Alison: What do you do in your (1) ____________?

Paul: Well, I usually watch (2) ____________. What about you?

Alison: I’m a member of a (3) ____________ club.

Paul: Oh, what does that involve?

Alison: We meet every (4) ____________ from 7-9 in order to practise and then we have matches on Fridays or Saturday.

Paul: Sounds (5) ____________!

Alison: And we have social activities as well. We always have a New Year party and a summer party. And of course we usually stay on for a (6) ________ after the practice on Thursday.
WORKING WITH SPEAKING

What do you do in your spare time?

Exercise 4.4

Work with a partner:

A: Ask: What do you do in your spare time?
B: Answer: Choose from the list:

- I’m a member of a sports club.
- I’m a member of an aerobics club.
- I belong to a tennis club.
- I watch television.
- I play football/tennis/basketball.

Change partners. Now ask how often.

A: What do you do in your spare time?
B: Choose from the list or add your own.
A: How often do you do it? / How often do you play?
B: We usually meet on Saturday afternoon.
always play twice a week.
once a month etc.

Television in the UK

Exercise 4.5

In the UK television services are available on digital terrestrial, satellite, internet streaming and cable systems. Some channels are available as ‘freeview’ but others are only available if you pay a monthly subscription.

The BBC (British Broadcasting Corporation) broadcasts eight public TV channels: BBC One, BBC Two, BBC Three, BBC Four, CBBC (for children), CBeebies (for children), BBC News 24 and BBC Parliament and all are available free-to-view. There is no commercial advertising on BBC broadcasts. Three commercial networks ITV, Channel 4 and Five are also available.
Some of these TV channels may, via satellite or by internet streaming, be available for you to watch in your country in addition to the BBC World News, CNN or the BBC Radio World Service which are all widely available outside the U.K. Watching and listening to English television for ten minutes each day will help you to learn English. Try different programmes, and see which you find easiest to understand and to enjoy. You maybe able to have English subtitles on some programmes and this can be a great help.

Which of the following statements are true or false? For those that are false, give the correct statement.

1. UK television services are only available via satellite.
2. There are eight public BBC television channels.
3. Three of the BBC channels are especially for children.
4. ITV is a commercial network.
5. BBC broadcasts carry commercial advertising.

Work with a partner. Ask and answer these questions:

- How many TV channels are there in your country?
- Do you have public TV channels?
- Do you record many television programmes to watch later?
- Name any TV channels or radio programmes you can receive in English.
Look at the Television Evening Programme Guide and tick the boxes showing examples of the different types of programmes.

WORKING WITH SPEAKING

Asking about likes and dislikes

Exercise 4.6

Example:

A: Do you like jazz?
B: Yes, I do. What about you?
A: No, not very much, I’m afraid.

A: Do you like listening to music?
B: No, not very much. Do you?
A: Yes, I like it very much.

Practise with a partner:

- Do you like jazz/rock music/opera?
- Do you like going to the theatre/cinema?
- Do you like playing tennis/football/etc.?
- Do you like cycling/swimming/dancing?

- Yes, I do.
- Yes, I like it very much.
- No, not (very) much, I’m afraid.
- No, I don’t.

Change partners.

Now practise the following conversation with your new partner using the words from the list below:

A: Do you like skiing?
B: Yes, I do, but I prefer swimming.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>fishing</th>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Now report on what your partner likes and prefers, for example:

- Pierre likes skiing but prefers swimming.

WORKING WITH LANGUAGE

The ‘-ing’ form of verbs

Exercise 4.7.1

This is a very important ending in English. It is formed by adding -ing to the basic form of the verb. In addition, it is important to remember the following:

1. If the basic form of the verb ends in -t, -n, -m, then this consonant is doubled before adding the -ing:
   - get → getting
   - run → running
   - farm → farming

2. If the basic form ends in -e, this is deleted before adding the -ing:
   - ride → riding
   - love → loving

Some uses:

a. It is used with the verb be to form the progressive tenses:
   - We were eating our supper when the phone rang.
   - He is printing the newsletter now.

b. It is used with other verbs such as like to form -ing clauses:
   - I like swimming.

   - The employer insists on seeing her now.
Now write the verbs in brackets in the '-ing' form:

1. I like (play) ____________ tennis.
2. Do you like (play) __________ any games?
3. Michelle likes (swim) ____________
4. Diego likes (watch) _____________ old films on television.
5. Eva's daughters like (ride) ____________
6. Christian doesn't like (run) ____________
7. Nadia likes (write) _____________ letters.
8. Carla likes (watch) ____________ videos.
9. Pablo likes (play) _____________ football.
10. I don't like (write) _____________ exercises.
What’s the weather like today?

Exercise 4.7.2

It’s sunny
It’s hot
It’s cold
It’s freezing
It’s foggy
It’s snowing
It’s raining
It’s windy
It’s cloudy

Work with a partner and say what you like and don’t like to do in different weather, for example:

- I like running when it’s cold
- I like watching T.V. when it’s raining
- I don’t like working when it’s sunny!
WORKING WITH WRITING

Steve’s hobbies

Exercise 4.11

Steve and Jim are talking about Steve’s hobbies. Complete Jim’s questions.

Jim: So you like gardening, Steve?
Steve: Yes, I really love it.
Jim: What _____ _____ grow?
Steve: Roses, especially, but also lots of vegetables.
Jim: When _____ _____ work in the garden?
Steve: In the afternoon, after work. I finish work early, of course. I also spend a lot of time in the garden at the weekend.
Jim: Have you any other hobbies?
Steve: Well, cycling. I like cycling.
Jim: When _____ _____ cycle?
Steve: I cycle to work, of course. And sometimes we have cycling holidays.
Jim: Where _____ _____ go?
Steve: We go to the countryside. Yes, it’s fun - and cheap!

The internet

Exercise 4.12

In March 2008, 46.8% of the population of Europe had access to the Internet, that is 374 million people (total population of Europe is about 800 million). Between 2000 and 2008 the number of Internet users in Europe has grown by 256.1%.

Germany has more than 16 million people with broadband (the high speed Internet access), France has 15.3 million broadband users and the U.K. has just under 14 million. Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria are showing an average of 9 to10% growth in broadband usage with Ukraine at 15% and Croatia at 25%.

Statistics from www.internetworldstats.com and www.guardian.co.uk

Broadband spreads globe (June 2007)
The Internet can be used for:

- e-information
- e-communication (e-mail)
- e-entertainment (music, films, games)
- e-commerce (shopping)
- e-money (banking)
- e-travel
- e-learning

Write 10 statistical statements based on the above information, for example:

- 374 million people in Europe had access to the internet in March 2008.

Work with a partner.

Ask each other these questions

1. Do you have access to a computer at work or at home?
2. Do you use the internet?
3. What do you use the Internet for: e-mail, commerce, learning, etc.?
4. Do you have a favourite website?
5. How long do you spend on the computer each day?
6. How long do you spend on the internet each day?

Compare your answers with the other groups in the class.

Now write the answers to the following questions:

1. How many people have access to a computer at work?
2. How many people have access to a computer at home?
3. How many people use the internet?
4. What do people use the internet for?
5. How long on average do people spend on the computer each day?
6. How long on average do people spend on the internet each day?
Websites to help you improve your English

If you have access to the internet you can continue to learn English on your own by using an English Language Learning website. There are many to choose from, for example:

http://www.smic.be/smic5022/
Belgian website with online exercises, printable handouts with key, lessons, etc.

http://www.better-english.com/exerciselist.html
Huge free website with a strong focus on business English.

http://www.englishforum.com/00/interactive/
Very good mixed-skills site; mainly for lower levels.

http://worldofenglish.com/exercises.html
Good-looking flash-type activities for the bored learner who likes playing.

http://www.english-test.net/
Very comprehensive, fantastic site; all exercise at 3 levels: elementary / intermediate / advanced.

http://www.nonstopenglish.com/allexercises/
Levels range from “beginner” to “professional” (7 levels) and translated into 10 European languages.

http://www.bbc.co.uk/worldservice/learningenglish/
Excellent interactive site with downloadable listening exercises; very good for vocabulary-building, listening (authentic radio broadcasts), pronunciation, and specialisms.

http://www.learn-english-online.org/
Easy exercises aimed at beginners, but elementary learners will find the useful, too; 49 lessons in 10 units.

http://www.learn-english-today.com/
Lots of vocabulary lists and standard exercises; easy to navigate.

http://www.world-english.org/
Large collection of all sorts of activities.

Spare time activities in the UK

Exercise 4.14

Watching television, listening to the radio and using the computer/browsing the internet are spare time activities which are extremely popular in the U.K.

Sport also continues to be very popular – football, for instance, has a large following of people who watch it regularly live or on TV and there are many people themselves who play in a local team on a regular basis.

Running is growing in popularity and people of all ages are taking part in runs of varying lengths, sometimes for charity, sometimes just for the fun of participating in a large group event.

Another hobby in which more and more people are interested is genealogy (family history) with specialised programmes to watch on the television and monthly magazines to buy.

Going out to a restaurant for a meal or going down to the pub for a drink are both very popular activities while many young people enjoy ‘clubbing’ (dancing and drinking in nightclubs).

Gardening remains a firm favourite and the many well kept and beautiful gardens in the U.K. show just how dedicated a lot of people are to this hobby.

Now try to answer the following questions:

1. How many leisure activities are mentioned?
2. List these activities under the following headings. (Some activities can be listed under more than one heading):
   - Physical activity
   - Watching/listening activities
   - Information gathering activities
   - Socialising activities

Now ask and answer these questions with a partner about your own country.

3. What are the favourite spare time activities in your country?
4. Do you have any special hobbies?
WORKING WITH LANGUAGE

The past simple tense

Exercise 4.15

Study the following:

An English course for European trade unionists, which took place in Newcastle, finished six months ago. After the course, Tom Smith invited Pablo Escobal to visit the town of Newcastle again.

Tom and his wife Mary invited Pablo to stay at their home in Newcastle. He accepted with pleasure. He travelled by train and boat and arrived in the evening.

Here we learn about something that happened in the past. The verbs are in the simple past form.

➢ ask other people about their leisure activities
➢ discuss what’s on television
➢ discuss likes and dislikes
➢ use the simple present tense in the negative and make questions with when and where ➢ make some statements in the simple past tense
UNIT 5

FOOD AND DRINK

Looking ahead

In this unit you will learn about typical menus; you will learn how to talk about food, how to order in a restaurant; and you will write simple e-mails.

You will also study:

Vocabulary

- names of food items
- names of prepared dishes

Grammar

- countable and uncountable nouns
- more on the simple past tense
- how to talk about the future using ‘going to’
A Restaurant Menu

Look at the menu:
1. How many of these dishes do you know?
2. Can you add any other typically English dishes?

<td>I’d like some butter, please.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I’d like a banana, please.</td>
<td>I’d like some cheese, please</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I’d like some apples, please.</td>
<td>I’d like some cream, please</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I’d like some oranges, please.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>How much butter? A little, please.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How many bananas? Two, please.</td>
<td>A nice big piece, please.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Note

How many?
Nouns like apples, bananas, oranges, etc. are called countable nouns.

How much?
Nouns like butter, cheese, cream, etc. are called uncountable nouns.
Put the following into the right box:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>eggs</th>
<th>milk</th>
<th>potatoes</th>
<th>curry</th>
<th>tea</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>yoghurt</td>
<td>coffee</td>
<td>pasta</td>
<td>steak</td>
<td>sugar</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>chicken</td>
<td>apples</td>
<td>salad</td>
<td>carrots</td>
<td>tomatoes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ham</td>
<td>pears</td>
<td>apple juice</td>
<td>bread</td>
<td>rice</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

How many? | How much?

Now study the following:

How many?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Countable nouns</th>
<th>Uncountable nouns</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a kilo of potatoes</td>
<td>a kilo of flour</td>
</tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>500 grams of cherries</td>
<td>100 grams of ham</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a kilo of onions</td>
<td>50 grams of butter</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In this way we can measure both uncountable as well as countable items.
I’d like some…..

Exercise 5.4.2

A: I’d like some apples, please.
B: Certainly, how many would you like?
A: Two/A kilo/500 grams, etc.

A: I’d like some cheddar cheese, please.

A: 100 grams, please.

A: I’d like some ____________.
B: Certainly, how much/how many would you like? (Choose the right one).
A: ______________, please.

May I have a ............?

Exercise 5.5

We can also measure countable and uncountable items with phrases like a slice of..., a piece of..., a packet of..., a can of..., a bag of....

Choose food items from the box to match with the right phrase. Some phrases occur with more than one food item.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>cake</th>
<th>bread</th>
<th>cheese</th>
<th>sugar</th>
<th>tea</th>
<th>milk</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>flour</td>
<td>coffee</td>
<td>olive oil</td>
<td>Coke</td>

9. A slice of ___________, please.
10. I’d like a carton of ____________.

WORKING WITH SPEAKING

In the restaurant

Would you like to see the menu?

Exercise 5.6

Later in the week, Tom and Alison take John to a restaurant.

Read the following scenario:

Waiter: Good evening, sir. Would you like to see the menu?
(He gives everyone a menu.)
Tom: Thank you.
( Everyone looks at the menu.)
Waiter: Would you like to order now, sir?
( Everyone says what they would like.)
Waiter: What would you like to drink? Would you like to see the wine list?
Alison: Yes, please.
(The waiter gives Alison the wine list. She looks at it, asks the others and orders.)
WORKING WITH LISTENING

In the restaurant

Exercise 5.7

Now listen to Tom, Alison and John as they order. Use the phrases from the box to complete the conversation.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>For you, Madam?</th>
<th>ice</th>

WORKING WITH SPEAKING

A scene in a restaurant

Exercise 5.8.2

Look at the restaurant picture. In groups, practise the scene in the restaurant. One person is the waiter, the others are the customers.

Before you begin, look at previous dialogues (in exercises 5.2, 5.3, 5.6) in this unit for useful phrases and vocabulary and make notes under headings for the different roles.

You can also use the Menu on Page 5-2 to help you.
WORKING WITH LANGUAGE

The past simple tense

Exercise 5.9

Here are some more verbs and their forms for the simple past tense. They are irregular verbs; that is they do not form the simple past just by adding –ed to the base infinitive.

Study the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Base infinitive</th>
<th>Past Simple</th>
<th>Base infinitive</th>
<th>Past Simple</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>buy</td>
<td>bought</td>
<td>see</td>
<td>saw</td>

Now write about your journey to work.

Favourite dishes

Exercise 5.11

Work with a partner. Ask the following questions:

1. What type of restaurant do you like to go to, for example: Chinese, Indian, Mexican, Italian, Spanish, French, British, or your own nationality?

2. Give the name and the ingredients of your favourite dish.

3. What is the difference between the places below? What will each serve?

- café
- coffee shop
- canteen
- restaurant
- pub
- bar
- snack bar
- takeaway
- fish and chip shop

After your discussion, write a brief definition of each.

For example:

Coffee shop: A place where they serve different kinds of coffee, but usually other kinds of (non-alcoholic drinks) too, as well as cakes, biscuits, pastries or other snacks.
WORKING WITH READING

Food and drink in the UK

Exercise 5.12

In the 21st century people eat a healthier diet than in the past. The traditional British breakfast of fried bacon and eggs is not so common in homes today. Thirty years ago people bought much more sugar than now. Today most people prefer white meat (for example, chicken) to red meat (for example, beef). Nowadays the government is encouraging people to eat a « healthy diet »; that is, a diet with at least 5 portions of fruit and vegetables each day. The Government is also advising people to restrict their ‘fat intake’ and to take more exercise on a daily basis.

Convenience food is now extremely popular and ‘ready-to-cook meals’ are easily available in the supermarkets. Over 60% of households have a microwave oven to cook such food and nearly 90% have a freezer. Many people also like eating in restaurants: both traditional restaurants and fast food restaurants. Popular fast-food restaurants are those which sell beef burgers or pizzas. Due to the spread of these other types of fast-food outlets the traditional British meal of fish and chips is not quite as popular as it used to be, but most towns, even small ones, usually still have at least one fish and chip shop, if not more.

Restaurants which serve foreign food are also very common, especially those serving Chinese, Indian or Italian food. If you want to eat British food, go to a pub. Many pubs serve meals, especially at lunchtime. These meals are often good value.

Now try to answer the following questions:

1. What is the government encouraging people to eat?.
2. What modern equipment do households have today?
3. What sort of food do fast-food restaurants sell?
4. Which types of foreign restaurants are common in the UK?
5. Why kind of food do they serve in a pub?

Now work with a partner. Ask and answer these questions about your own country:

6. What types of fast food outlets are there in your country?
7. Which types of ethnic restaurants are there in your country?
8. What sort of food, if any, is served in bars in your country?
9. Are there many restaurants in your country serving your typical national dishes?
10. Do you prefer eating at home or in a restaurant? Why?
Talking about the future

Exercise 5.13

You can use ‘going to’ to talk about the future:

1. To talk about a future plan
   - I’m going to have salad for lunch
   - He’s going to fly to Spain next week
   - He’s not going to take the train tomorrow
   - Who are your going to visit in India?
   - I’m going to visit my sister.

2. To talk about something that is just about to happen
   - Look at the black clouds – it’s going to rain.
   - Hurry up, we’re late – we’re going to miss the train!

You use the present tense of the verb ‘to be’:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>am</th>
<th>is</th>
<th>+ going + to + base infinitive of verb</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Positive</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I’m</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He’s</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She’s</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We’re</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You’re</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They’re</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Negative

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I’m not</th>
<th>going</th>
<th>to work</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>He’s not</td>
<td>going</td>
<td>to work</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She’s not</td>
<td>going</td>
<td>to work</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We aren’t</td>
<td>going</td>
<td>to work</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You aren’t</td>
<td>going</td>
<td>to work</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They aren’t</td>
<td>going</td>
<td>to work</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Question

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>When am I</th>
<th>going</th>
<th>to watch TV?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>When is he/she</td>
<td>going</td>
<td>to watch TV?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When are we/you/they</td>
<td>going</td>
<td>to watch TV?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Exercise 5.14

Write about the things that you are going to do/not going to do next week. There are words in the box below to help you.

Example:

- I’m going to watch TV.
- I’m not going to go to work.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>watch</th>
<th>television, football, rugby, a film</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>go</td>
<td>to work, to play</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>listen</td>
<td>to music</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>go</td>
<td>shopping</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>drink</td>
<td>whisky, beer, wine, mineral water</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>eat</td>
<td>cake</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>visit</td>
<td>my friends</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>read</td>
<td>a book, a magazine, a newspaper</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Writing simple e-mails

Exercise 5.15

Write a short e-mail to a colleague using the diary entries to help you.

You can start e-mails to someone you know with:

Dear + first name (e.g. Jane) and finish e-mails with:

Best wishes or Kind regards

Example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Monday</th>
<th>Health and Safety Meeting</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wednesday</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wednesday (today)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thursday</td>
<td>T.U. Branch Office  2.00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friday</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saturday</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sunday</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Dear Jane,

On Monday I attended the Health and Safety meeting at our factory. How was your H&S Meeting this week? Tomorrow I’m going to visit the TU Branch Office and I’m going to see John Brown at 2pm. I hope to see you there later on in the afternoon. Let me know if you’re going to be free to meet for a coffee and a chat.

Best wishes,

Per.

Now write your own e-mail using the information given in the diary below.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Monday</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday</td>
<td>tour of factory</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wednesday</td>

Some suggestions to help you to continue learning and improving your English

See also Introductory unit: language learning strategies

- Learn a new word every day
- Visit English Language Learning websites every few days and do some English exercises
- Browse the internet for subjects in English that you are interested in (e.g. www.bbc.co.uk for written texts, News and programmes (of all sorts) in spoken English, and downloadable podcasts).
- Talk in English to English-speaking colleagues.
- Attend a local English Language class or English conversation group.
- Write e-mails in English to your EWC colleagues.
- Watch English television programmes (with subtitles in English if possible).
Watch English films (with subtitles in English if possible).

Listen to English radio (e.g. BBC World Service).

Read English newspapers, magazines, books (fiction and non-fiction) (about the news of the day or subjects you are interested in).

Listen to songs in English (with the written texts if available – you may be able to find the texts on the internet).

Play computer games in English.

Try to increase your knowledge of English by listening, reading, writing or speaking English every day or every other day for at least 5 or 10 minutes if you can. Don’t worry if you miss some days or weeks if you are really busy - just start again, you will soon remember what you knew before.

But whatever you do to help yourself learn English – ENJOY IT!

Looking back

Now that you have finished the unit, you should be able to:

- order what you want to eat in a canteen or restaurant
- talk about different kinds of food
- use more verbs in the past simple tense
- talk about the future using ‘going to’
- write simple e-mails
