ETUI background

ETUI, The European Trade Union Institute is the independent research and training centre of the European Trade Union Confederation (ETUC) which itself affiliates European trade unions into a single European umbrella organisation. The ETUI places its expertise in the service of workers’ interests at European level and of the strengthening of the social dimension of the European Union.

One of the two of ETUI's departments – the education department – is responsible for training courses for the national confederations and European federations. The strong strategic and educational activities from ETUI's Education department are face to face. The target groups are very diverse.

All the training activities are for the trade union movement and have a European dimension. In this way, they help to strengthen the social dimension of the European Union. (See http://www.etui.org/Training).

Context of this call and purposes

For more than a decade, the ETUI Education Department has worked to empower future TU leaders from the national confederations and European federations. The European training for young TU leaders programme aims to prepare young trade union leaders for the highest future responsibilities in the trade union movement for an activity with a European dimension. In this way, they help to strengthen the social dimension of the European Union.
Each year ETUI, in partnership with national Organizations, invites up to 25 participants under 40 to attend a 9 months training including 3 weeks of face-to-face course and 2 intermediate periods working at distance. The participants are young trade union officers who have been elected or appointed to posts at the regional or national level, had some prior trade union training at regional/sectoral/ national level, and were faced with the challenge of transnational trade union activity.

Importantly, participants can be from member organisations located in any of the Countries where the European Trade Union Confederation (ETUC) has its affiliates (see: www.etuc.org), which mainly include EU Member States and other Candidate Countries.

The working language used during this training programme is mainly English, although for some editions additional languages were offered.

The programme was assessed 7 years ago, with a systematic analytical framework and comprehensive data collection activities. This has resulted in some significant improvements in the quality of the programme, one of the most remarkable ones is the certification accredited, since the course edition 2015/16, by the UK NOCN through a partnership with the TUC and the Edinburgh College.

Each of ETUI’s accredited courses is based on specific “learning outcomes” – statements which make clear what the course will enable the participants to do – and “assessment criteria” explaining what the learner has to do to demonstrate that the learning outcomes have been met.

The main aims of this Programme are:

1. Develop the capacity to integrate the European and national dimension/perspective into the trade union work, by
   - improving the knowledge of economic and social realities in Europe;
   - developing knowledge of, and the ability to assess the main European policies and the national trade unions’ realities and positions;

2. Develop the capacity to work in a multicultural environment, by
   - understanding the advantages and specific aspects of cultural diversity within Europe;
   - building, coordinating, and leading multicultural groups;
   - developing participants’ ability to cooperate at the European level;

3. Develop the capacity to communicate on the trade union topics, by
   - using a shared trade union terminology;
   - conducting and participate in debates;
   - using online tools for collaborative work via distance;
   - improving drafting skills for written message/presentation/report/synthesis;

4. Analyse complex situations and design trade union strategies
   - developing their observation skills;
   - developing the capacity to analyse different trade union realities;
   - setting objectives and propose solutions;
5. Contribute to the development of the European trade union identity by enhancing leadership skills.
   - adopting a leadership style;
   - enhancing critical thinking;
   - developing a project management approach.

Purposes:

The overall objective of the assessment is to evaluate the relevance, impact, added value of the programme to train young European trade union leaders from ETUI Education throughout the last six years.

The specific objectives are to evaluate:

- the degree to which the participants saw their responsibilities increase in the organisations, at the European, National or Regional level.
- the number of former participants now leading projects in their organizations at the European, national or regional levels.
- the relevance of the contents and the efficacy and efficiency of learning of the programmes (the knowledge acquired was applied in their workplaces).
- the impact and added value for the affiliated organisations, as well as other key stakeholders, and by extension, to contribute to the development of Social Europe and the European social dialogue.
- the impact and added value of the certification accredited by the UK NOCN through a partnership with the TUC and the Edinburgh College.
